NCACCH Background Statement

North Coast Aboriginal Corporation for Community Health (NCACCH) is a not for profit, community-controlled health corporation and is funded by the Australian Government's Department of Health (DoH), Central Queensland, Wide Bay & Sunshine Coast PHN and the Queensland Government Department of Health.

NCACCH is an innovative leader in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander healthcare, providing a range of services and programs through its hybrid Brokerage and Aboriginal Medical Service model for health service delivery. NCACCH maintains contracts with over 800 primary and allied health professionals across the region.

With the purpose of providing a holistic and comprehensive primary health care service, NCACCH seeks to improve health and social outcomes to our community through:

- Provision of access to a full regional network of health care professionals
- Encouraging choice for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community members and their families. And through exercising this choice, building cultural sensitivity and inclusiveness across the community while simultaneously promoting market competition between health care service providers; and
- Utilising its Aboriginal Medical Service and partnerships with primary healthcare and other specialised services, as a proactive strategy in delivering community wide "Closing the Gap" health status improvement initiatives

Our Vision: To 'close the gap' in the health status of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people through a holistic approach to patient health and wellbeing.

Purpose of the Position

The NCACCH Senior General Practitioner is part of the of the Health Services team and reports to the Practice Manager and at times, takes direction from the General Manager – Health Services.

The position is responsible for participating in processes in conjunction with the Practice Manager and the clinical governance of the NCACCH Aboriginal Medical Service/s in which they work and to provide expertise in the delivery of comprehensive primary health care services. The position will contribute to, and in some cases lead, clinical quality and safety and will foster a culture of organisational reflection and continuous quality improvement. The position will also be responsible for the provision of General Practitioner services to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander patients and their families as part of a multi-disciplinary team of medical and health staff, within the operational framework of an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community controlled health service.

The NCACCH Senior General Practitioner is expected to operate with the highest level of integrity, accountability and professionalism in accordance with NCACCHs values and Code of Conduct. In addition, this position works closely with the Practice Manager to ensure NCACCHs business objectives are met through robust and effective support systems and activities to support continuous improvement through encouraging innovation and best practice, within NCACCHs current quality management systems.
